

When I was looking for a serious working puppy to raise to eventually replace my police k9 I spoke with at least two dozen breeders over 1 1/2 years. I knew what I wanted and had trouble trusting a breeder to supply me with exactly the puppy I was looking for. Our K9 unit had contracted with K9unlimited to train our explosive k9 and when I heard they had a litter of puppies I called Dave to see if he had what I was looking for. They picked a malinois puppy that fit my criteria. "Ozzy" is genetically everything that could be asked for in a working dog. At 12 weeks old he had a full calm grip and was biting like an adult dog. I can take him anywhere and he's ready to play no noise or environmental issues. Insane ball and toy drive and totally non dog aggressive. He's almost 17 weeks old and well on his way. This is the ultimate dog thanks guys.
